Registration Procedures Announced

All students new to the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District this fall-kindergarten through senior high school grade 12 in the communities of Seaside, Monterey, Del Rey Oaks, Sand City, Fort Ord, and Marina-should be registered by September 2, although late registrants will be accepted.

This applies only to three kinds of students: youngsters entering kindergarten or first grade, attending public school for the first time; students who have moved to the district from some other area and students within the district who have changed place of residence since school closed last June. All other students automatically were registered for promotion or transfer last spring.

Registration for all students who will enter school on-post at Fort Ord and the La Mesa School in Monterey, which serves many children of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School and who live at La Mesa Village Naval Housing area, is now underway.

Registration for new students for all toher schools in the district begins Wednesday, August 18.

New students may register at the nearest school for the grade to be attended or will be referred to the proper school from there. Most elementary schools include kindergarten and grades one through six. Junior high schools cover grades seven, eight and nine (except Los Arboles Junior High School in Marina which sends ninth graders to Fitch Junior High School at Fort Ord) Senior high school includes grades ten, eleven and twelve.

Registration hours for elementary and junior high schools are 9 a.m. to 1:30 and 1 to 3:30 p.m., daily, Monday through Friday. Registration closes September 2.

The counseling offices at the two senior high schools are open for registration from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

California laws require that to enter kindergarten a child must be five years of age on or before December 2, 1971 and to enter first grade a child must be six years of age on or before December 2, 1971. A birth certificate, baptismal record, insurance paper or other document is required for proof of birthdate.

Transportation and cafeteria services begin the first day of school and questions about these services may be asked at time of registration.

The cost for hot lunches in grades one through six is 40 cents per day, $2 a week, or $8 for four weeks. Weekly and monthly tickets are sold only on certain days, as announced at the school. Milk is included in the school lunch but may also be purchased separately for six cents per carton at all schools. The cost for hot lunches at junior and senior high schools is 45 cents. Senior high schools also offer a la carte items.

YAFA Does It Again

Young Adults For Action, which operate a special program to help prison parolees keep out of trouble and not slip back into their old criminal habits, was given a vote of confidence recently by the California Department of Corrections and the California Adult Authority.

These two state agencies allowed the parole of Luther "Rudy" Collins to be reduced from four years to 18 months.

Because of his active participation in community affairs and his deep involvement in rehabilitation activities--he is a rehabilitation counselor trainee under directorship of James "Bull" Golden on YAFA staff--Collins was able to gain the respect of judges, deputy public defender, deputy prosecutors and law enforement officials. Local parole authorities reviewed his case at their urging and decided to reduce the parole.

When he found out about the action, Collins said, "Had it not been for Lee Toler and the Young Adults For Action and the personal assistance of Bull Golden, there is no telling where I would be now. But one thing is for sure, I wouldn't be discharged from parole."

MPC Employees Get Increase

All 250 full-time employees at Monterey Peninsula College received good news last week. The governing board of MPC granted them an across-the-board 5 percent raise.

These raises for both the classified and certified employees, which will cost about $130,000, were included in the 1971-72 budget. The $4,369,881 budget was unanimously approved at the recent governors meeting.

The budget, which is an increase of over $300,000 from last year, will not increase taxes, according to Donald K. Young, business manager.

Young said that taxes will stay down because of an increase in assessed valuation and enrollment.

Young explained that MPC would receive more funds from the state because of its increase in enrollment, which is expected to reach 7 percent over last year.

The governing board also approved an increase in the college center use fee. Each student will be charged $5 instead of $2 per semester, while during the summer session, the charge will be $2.50, up from $1.

Resevoir Of Talent Available

A Reagan Administration official said that if California employers aren't using the self-help Experience Unlimited job-placement facilities in the State "they're overlooking a vast reservoir of professional talent."

The official, Alan C. Nelson, director of the State Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), said the self-help organization had 25 active chapters throughout California with a membership of 18,000 unemployed professionals.

He said the group had placed nearly 4,600 persons in jobs in its first full year of operation.

Nelson said he was emphasizing the importance of California employers using this resource of talent "because if we can get these highly-skilled men and women back on payrolls in the state it should do much to boost our economy."

An employer can be exposed to this "vast reservoir of professional talent," Nelson said, "simply by calling the HRD office nearest him and asking for Experience Unlimited."

Nelson said that although the program was originally begun to assist unemployed aerospace professionals find jobs, "it has now been expanded to include professional, managerial and technically-qualified men and women from a large number of occupations, industries, businesses and professions."

Nelson said Experience Unlimited, as it currently operates, was established with the assistance of Governor Reagan's administration and receives office space and technical assistance from HRD.

"Experience Unlimited is one of the most exciting and significant projects we're involved in at HRD," Nelson said.

"It's an important prototype program becaude it shows what can be done when you combine the efforts of the government with volunteers from the private sector," he added.

Nelson said the current Experience Unlimited program was begun in West Covina in April, 1970, by five unemployed aerospace engineers with the support of Governor Reagan's administration.

"These men," Nelson said, "had lost their jobs after cutbacks in aerospace-defense industry projects and recognized their highly specialized talents might be hard to place in another industry using conventional job-search methods."

From that nucleus, Nelson added, the organization has grown to where today it represents a talent poll that ranges from the doctorate to the technician level over a broad spectrum of occupations.

Nelson said a major task of Experience Unlimited was to get its story repeated as frequently and as completely as possible, "so that potential employers throughout the State may become aware of the wealth of highly-trained manpower that is available to them."

He said that in a period of high unemployment, he believed employers would find this resevoir of talent particularly valuable as a source of trained manpower "because these Experience Unlimited members have the talents to help businessmen and industrialists maintain or increase their profit positions."

Employees Reject City Offer

At a meeting last week, the members of the Seaside Employes Association voted not to accept the city council's offer for salary increases.

The association intends to stick to their original request of an across-the-board 5 percent pay raise retroactive to July 1.

The council had offered to give the employes two raises. According to mediator Milton Farrell, the council offered one 2-1/2 percent raise retroactive to July 1. The other raise, also of 2-1/2 percent, would take effect January 1, 1972. Also included in the offer was a $15.17 per employe monthly medical insurance payment.

Association president Gerry Ruhl pointed out, however, that this vote was not a strike vote. She said that state law prohibits strikes by municipal employees.

Mrs. Ruhl emphasized that the association has made no "ironclad decision as to what to do if we don't get the raise".

The police department, which has a separate association, has asked for a 7 percent raise. The fire department has asked for parity with the police.

Cranston Move Saves State $80 Million

Senator Alan Cranston recently led a bipartisan Senate coalition in beating back an effort to pass on to the states welfare costs whic traditionally have been borne by the federal government.

The Cranston move, which was approved by a 50-40 vote, saved California taxpayers $80 million, according to estimates of the National Governors Conference.

By the vote, the Senate overrode an attempt to limit the federal contribution to state's welfare operational expenses to 15 percent over last year's expenditures. The Cranston amendment kept the federal contribution open-ended according to the size of each state welfare program. That has been customary.

This was the second time in eight months that Cranston has led a successful effort to sustain full federal aid for administration, social services and personnel training of state welfare programs for the aged, blind, disabled and families with dependent children.

"None of us would disagree that there is a vital need to reform our public assistance programs to reduce the ever-spiraling costs of welfare," Cranston told the Senate. "But cutting federal expenditures now at the expense of our already overburdened local governments is not the responsible answer."

New Rose Is Star of Festival

There will be a new kind of star at the Monterey Jazz Festival this year. It is a bright red rose, officially called the "Jazz Fest," which was developed by Armstrong Nurseries of Ontario, California.

The rose will be worked into stage decorating themes and will be seen on the grounds of the Monterey County Fairgrounds, site for the Annual Monterey Jazz Festival, set this year for September 17, 18, 19.

Other artists will be announced as signed for the performances.

The Monterey Jazz Festival consists of five different concerts Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Tickets are on sale at major agencies in the San Francisco Bay area.

For information write Monterey Jazz Festival, P. O. Box JAZZ, Monterey CA 93940. Or phone 373-3366.

Bike System Gets Support

Senator Alan Cranston recently introduced the "Bicycle Transportation Act of 1971," which would enable states and communities to use federal highway trust fund money on a 50-50 matching basis to develop bicycle commuter systems.

"The bicycle is an important, healthful and pollution-free alternative to traditional modes of transportation." Cranston said. "Its use should be encouraged, not only to improved our personal health, but also to promote the health and welfare of the entire community by reducing motor vehicular noise and air pollution."

Cranston said that better facilities for bikers would "also benefit the motorist by reducing traffic congestion, opening more parking areas and eliminating potential hazards for the car driving public."

Under his bill, federal assistance would be available for construction of such things as exclusive or preferential bicycle lanes, bike paths and bicycle traffic control devices, shelters and parking facilities.

Senator John Tunnery is a co-sponsor.

An identical bill was introduced on the House side June 23 by Congressman Edward Koch, D-New York.

"All over the nation, urban dwellers are turning to the bicycle in record numbers to escape traffic congestion and to avoid downtown parking woes", Cranston said. "Efforts are now underway in many cities to develop bicycle commuter systems to augment intra-city transportation."

"Rush hour races among automobile, bus and bicycle commuters have focused attention on the clear advantages of the bicycle: it is fast, clean, healthy and easy to park," Cranston noted. He pointed out that Secretary of Transportation John Volpe has announced his intention to make Washington, D. C. a model city for bicycles".

"But Davis, California, has long been the best known example of an intra-city bicycle transportation network", the Senator said. "Davis has perhaps the highest proportion of citizens owning and using bicycles as a regular means of transportation of any city in the nation. There are 18,000 registered bicycles in a city of 24,000."

Cranston also pointed out that "approximately 40 percent of all traffic on several major thoroughfares in Davis is bicycle traffic. And during rush hour, 90 percent of all bicyclist are adults.!"

"Most importantly" - Cranston concluded " a recent study of the Davis bicycle network has concluded that the major reason for the overwhelming success of the bicycle is the existence of a safe, carefully-designed bicycle commuter system which the city has had since 1966."

President Is Elected

The Marina Fire District Board of Director has elected Art Clark, director of the Marina Community Center, as its president.

There are three vacancies on the board, which will be filled by the November 2 election. Nominating petitions for these openings have been taken out by James Spitz and Richard Chase.

Petitions for the vacancies, which are for the expiring terms of Perry, Norman Conrad and Charles Lefler, may be obtained at the fire station and must be filed at the Salinas courthouse with at least 10 signatures by August 30. The three incumbents have not indicated whether they will run again.

Fraud Study Is Revealing

Following a detailed study of nationwide reports of 33,900 suspected cases of welfare fraud, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) has announced its findings.

The department discovered that less than half of the cases represented actual fraud. This amounts to less than 1 percent of all the welfare recipients in federally assisted welfare programs. The actual figure. HEW has reported, is seven-tenths of 1 percent.

In addition, of the 15,500-odd cases in which sufficient facts were available to support a question of fraud, the evidence did not prove sufficiently strong to result in more than 8,600 prosecutions. The cases not prosecuted were ignored, according to HEW's report, because the recipient repaid the sum in question, the amount was minute or the person involved had mental or physical handicaps or was subject to special hardship.

In California, there were a total of 4,500 cases of suspected welfare fraud in 1970. Of those, only 1,600 were discovered to have sufficient substance to justify prosecution.

A.E. Barragan

I visited the Monterey County Fair and National Horse Show several times last week and I cannot help but feel a little disappointed. Sure the fair had a record turnout, but I can't help but think that maybe this was because there was finally something to do. Considering the prevailing conditions here, this was quite an attraction.

The biggest draw in the past has always been the amusements provided by West Coast Shows, but was it only my imagination that maybe the fair board has begun to lean a little heavy in that direction.

Also why so little interest by local businesses toward the market place that a fair represents. Why must the people be forced to listen to the spiel for Vega and-Dial-a-Matics each year. Since the exibition hall did look a little bare this year, perhaps some variety would help perk things up.

Probably the biggest draw for non-local residents, though, is the National Horse Show. However, I wonder how many local people actually take an active interest in it. Judging by the reaction of some of the people their only knowlege that there might be a horse show was when they were stopped to let horses in and out of Pattee Arena.

As for livestock exhibition, you might as well forget it, little consideration is given to how much time these youngsters devote to their

JULY BRIDE

Shirley Ann Ross was united in marriage with Harold Ray Dickerson on July 12 in the First Baptist Church of Pacific Grove. Rev. Richard Nance officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

Shirley, the daughter of Seaside City Councilman and Mrs. Stephen E. Ross, wore a floor length empire style gown of white crepe, which featured a high neckline, bishop sleeves and a culotte skirt. Daisy appliques adorned the bodice of the dress. Her bouffant cathedral veil was held in place by a daisy crown. She carried a bouquet of carnations and baby's breath.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Jones of San Jose, was her matron of honor. Two other sisters, Gloria and Yvonne of Seaside, were bridesmaids. Kelly Garland of San Jose was the flower girl.

Charles Jones of San Jose was chosen to serve as best man. Ushers were William Powell and MacArthur Kithen of Richmond, Curtis Blake and Martial Johnson of San Francisco and Johnnie Ross, Sr., brother of the bride, of Seaside. John Ross, Jr., the bride's nephew, served as ring bearer.

The bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Alonzo Dickerson of Louisville, Kentucky, attended Kentucky State College. He is presently employed with Pacific Maritime Association in the bay area.

The bride graduated from Monterey elementary schools, Monterey High School, where she was as awarded a $250 scholarship from the Monterey Teachers Association, Monterey Peninsula College, where she received a degree in social science and San Jose State College, where she received her teaching credential. She is presently a teacher in the Alum Rock Union School District and is affiliated with the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority at SJSC.

A reception immediately following the wedding was attended by 300 relatives and friends. It was held at the Community Center of Pacific Grove.

SOUL FOOD AND SOUL MUSIC

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodie of Seaside hosted a "wayout" soul food dinner recently, in honor of Wilma Rudolph of Sacramento, who was visiting the peninsula. Beside dinner there was a live soul band, which entertained approximately 50 guests for the evening. The Woodies, both musically inclined, also played with the group. Out-of-town guests at the party included John Sims of Oakland, CSM Wilbert Hopkins of Fort Lewis, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Davis of Tacoma, Washington and Mr. Charles Blackburn of Los Angeles.

DEDICATION

On Saturday, July 10, Garfield Henry Shelton, II, was dedicated during his baptism at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Tacoma, Washington. His proud Godparents are CSM and Mrs. Wilbert Hopkins of Seaside. CSM Hopkins is presently stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Master Shelton's parents are residents of Tacoma. His mother, Cheryl, formerly of Seaside, is the daughter of Mr. William A. Parker, III and Mrs. Willie Evans, both of Seaside.

animals. All the average fair-goer remembers from this show is the smell.

Back at the other end of the fair both Fine Arts and the Flower Show seemed to get a good share of visitors, but as with the horse show, if one didn't know it was there, he only found it by accident.

I can only hope that by next year something can be done to make the Monterey County Fair representative of all the people of Monterey County and not just a selected few. It seems to me that cultures are as representative of a county as horses, cows and pigs. Think about it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I had occasion las night to attend the Monterey County Fair and was rather surprised at some of the aspects of the commercial displays after our previous conversation in June.

Since november 27, 1970, I wrote three letters to you requesting display and sale space at the fair. After not recieving an answer, I called three times before being put through. Your answer to my request was that you didn't allow duplication. I tried to argue that my line of products would not be duplication, but to no avail.

In view of the fact that I deal in gourmet candies and nuts, I decided to look for "duplication" last night. I found one stand selling fudge, one selling salt water taffy (both incidently owned by the same persor and both charging prices almost double that normally charged for fudge and salt water taffy), one selling candies almonds, one selling peanuts and one selling raw nuts. These five stands could have been the only possible duplication. Yet, while enjoying the fair, I found three "relax" type chairs, numerous beer stands, just to name a few of the duplications.

Another suprising aspect was that while walking through the commercial building, I saw at least one empty booth and two others that had probably been asked to "spread out" to cover other empty booths. Yet I, a local bussinessman who has spent over $5000 in the last year with local advertising media, who has spent all but two weeks since early April on the fair circuit trying to build up my inshop and mail order business, who has been invited to sell and display my product line at such fairs as Nevada State Fair, Los Angeles County, San Jose County, Salinas Valley Fair, and fourteen other, cannot sell and display my line at my home county fair because of "duplication".

Mr. Wise, is it really duplication you were worried about? I don't believe so. As a property owner and taxpayer in the cities of Monterey, Pacific Grove, Seaside, Del Rey Oaks and Marina and in view of the fact that my taxes, in part, are used to pay your salary and support the Monterey county fair, I would like to aske what was the real reason Hamilton's Nut Shoppe was excluded from the Monterey County Fair.

Editor:

As I promised you in my letter thanking you for your helpful support of Proposition 20, this is a report of the progress we have made to implement the $60 million Recreation and Wildlife Bond Act passed by the people during November.

First, the State Treasurer has been successful in selling $10 million worth of these bonds at varying interest rates. They all, however, are advantages to the State.

Second, the Legislature has approved the development of the following projects with the monies received from the sale of these bonds:

Development of launching facility, Oroville Lake, Lime Saddle Area
Development of Castaic Reservoir
Purchase of headquarters office, Feather River Area
Payment for sanitary facilities at Silverwood Lake State Recreation Area
Development of Silverwood Lake

This is a rewarding beginning and one we hope will be a continuing program until all of the work we have planned is completed.

Needless to say, this could only have been achieved through the support by your paper of Proposition 20 at the time it was needed.

Sincerely,
Willan Penn Mott, Jr.
Director
Department of Parks and Recreation

Editor: Divorce has caused emotional strain and a financial burden to many people when they are poorly prepared to deal with either. The new California Family Law Act greatly reduces these hardships by eliminating fault finding as a basis for marriage dissolution and by providing for equitable division of community property. In some cases it may be feasible for an individual to act as his own attorney and thys save the cost of attorney fees. Under the new California Family Law Act the only grounds for marriage dissolution are: (1) irreconcilable differences that have caused the irremediable breakdown of the marriage, and (2) incurable insanity.

Professional marriage counseling is available at no cost in counties having a Conciliation Court. This counseling is available either before or after dissolution proceedings have begun. It is necessary to file a Petition for Conciliation with the Superior Court Clerk.

To act as your own attorney in a marriage dissolution start by asking the Superior Court Clerk for the Dissolution Packet. Then locate the nearest law library for reference material. The new California Family Law Act and appropriate court procedures can be found in Deerings Civel Code 4500 to 5000 and Rules of Court 1201 to 1290 (in the 1971 Pocket Supplements) and other references that may be available. The court clerk can not help you in any way or give advice. You will be on your own.

I hope concerned people in other states will work for similar improvements in divorce legislation.

Sincerely,
John Patton

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

Julian Camacho intends to challenge Congressman Burt Talcott in next year's election. As a possible candidate myself, I attended a meeting of interested citizens in Seaside to hear Mr. Camacho's views.

If his ideas coincided pretty well with my own there would be no point in my spending $300 to file as a candidate and the job only pays 40 or 50 thousand dollars a year, so that part does not interest me.

During the discussion at the meeting we talked about garanteed incomes. This I do find interesting because the day it goes into effect I am going to take up a full time hobby like fishing or beachcombing so that I won't get in the way of some guy who is gung-ho about working for a living.

Seriously, we already have a guaranteed income plan in full swing, even though it goes by several different names to protect the pride of the innocent bystanders. The various recognized welfare programs, private and government retirement plans, unemployment and disability insurance these are all guaranteed incomes, all nessessary anad legitimate. Then we have millions of people on welfare who don't even know they are on welfare. Some work directly for the various federal, state and local governments in jobs that could be abolished and nobody would notice they were gone for several years. Others work on gigantic make-work projects like the space program, the anti-ballistc missile system and the Vietnam war, plus a number of related industries.

Without the race to the moon the thousands of people working on that project would have been uneployed or would have displaced some others who would have been unemployed. So we protected their pride by letting them think they were doing something useful, something like having a man digging a ditch and another one filling it up behind him, neither of them knowing about the other and both of them proud as peacocks of the great job they are doing.

The Nixon Safeguard ABM system is the same thing. Thousands of people and many big industries are going great guns on this absolutely useless program that is going to cost upwards of $15 billion - useless, that is, except that it gives these people a sense of accomplishment which is better than just handing them welfare checks.

The Vietnam war is basically a mek-work project and as it and the moon program wind down under pressure of popular demand, there is going to be more and more need to find either some other make-work programs to replace them or else find some way of admitting we have millions of extra people we can't find jobs for. This could become very sticky about election time, hence the slowness in winding down the war and the bulldog determination to keep the ABM alive in spite of its uselessness as a defense against missiles. It really should be called the ALOV system, the ALOV standing for Anti Loss of Votes.

But be of good cheer. George Wallace is alive and well in Alabamaand he may succeed Spiro Agnew in 1980.

Questions & Answers

Q.: I am a Vietnam veteran recently discharged due to a service-connected disability. Due to an accident, I am totally disabled. Can I apply for a VA pension?

A.: Yes. Veterans of the Vietnam Era with 90 or more days of service, or those separated from such service for a service connected disability, who become permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service, may be eligible for VA's non-service connected disability pension.

Q.: My husband has been reported as missing in action. I understand that i may now be eligible for educational benefits through the Veterans Administration. Is this true?

A.: Yes. Recent legislation (PL 91-584) authorizes educational benefits for wives of prisoners of war or veterans missing in action for a total of more than 90 days. Contact your local VA office.

Q.: I know a veteran who served on active duty during World War I and World War II. Will a burial allowance of $250 be paid for each period of service?

A.: No, a single payment, not to exceed $250, is payable toward the veteran's burial expenses.

Q.: A friend gets maximum disability compensation from the VA because of war injuries. He works for the state at a good salary, and sells insurance at night. A fellow employee has challenged his entitlement to disability payments. Is he entitled to them?

A.: Yes, if he is receiving compensation for a service connected disability. Outside income has no bearing whatever on this type of compensation. The law does not penalize a veteran who through special effort overcomes his handicap. The fellow employee must have confused compensation with pension--the latter being based on permanent and total disability, but not service-connected. Pension--not compensation--is affected by outside income.

If you use the latter option, your dividend will be applied to pay your premiums as far in advance as possible, and you will be notified. You will not be billed for premiums again until at least one month in advance of the date your next premium is due.

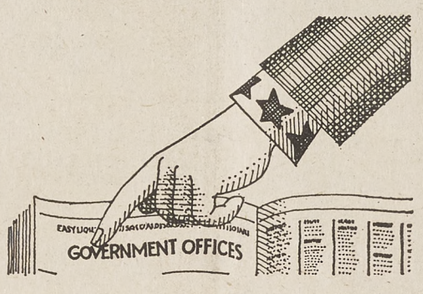
THE PHONE BOOTH



To make it easier for you to find phone numbers for government offices, now there's a quick reference page in the Yellow Pages. Under "G" for "Government Offices" you'll find listings for important city, county, state and federal offices. Because there are so many different government bureaus, departments and agencies, we thought it would be helpful to put the numbers that are most frequently called all together in one place. So now your fingers can do the walking through government offices in the Yellow Pages too.

If you have children, teaching them the proper use of the phone takes only a minute or two and may prove to be very worthwhile. When small children play with the phone, they sometimes leave the receiver off the hook, which may cause you to lose incoming calls. Then as soon as they're old enough, it's a good idea to teach them how to dial "zero" for the Operator in an emergency.

Unique Play Benefits Boys Club

The Monterey Peninsula Boys Club of America will present a benefit performance of "The Cage" on September 2 at the Sunset Cultural Center in Carmel.

The play is written, produced and performed by San Quentin parolees. It is a frank, direct, biting drama of four men locked in a cell.

"The Cage" is a true story told by the men who lived it. It concerns itself with people reacting under extreme situations.

Written by Rick Cluchey, the play will be performed by the Barbwire Theatre, whose credo and purpose is to educate and communicate, rather than to merely entertain. This group began consolidating its goals some 12 years ago in 1957 at San Quentin State Prison. All members of the Barbwire Theatre Company are former inmates of State of California Prisons.

Following their performance, the actors will return to the state for a "Confrontation" with the audience. During this period, there will be questions and answers from both sides of the footlights. Everyone has the opportunity to enter into a problem-solving debate about the future of our prisons.

Tickets for the 8 o'clock performance are available at the Sunset Cultural Center, 9th and San Carlos, 624-3996; Monterey Peninsula College Community Service office 375-9821, ext. 335; Abinati's Music Store, 424 Alvarado, Monterey; Rexall Drugs, Broadway and Fremont, Seaside and Thunderbird Bookstore, Carmel Valley Road.

Reserve Now

Reservations for state park campsites during the Labor Day weekend--traditionally the busiest of the year--are coming in so fast that William Penn Mott, Jr., director of the State Parks and Recreation Department, is advising would-be campers to rush to the nearest Ticketron terminal.

Local Sisters At Meeting In Boston

Deborah and Melanie Bassett of Seaside will be among twenty Peninsula students attending the Ninth Biennial Meeting of college students at the Christian Science Center in Boston August 26 through 28.

Deborah was president of the Christian Science Organization at U.C. Santa Barbara the past semester, while Melanie will be entering Monterey Peninsula College in the fall.

Both are graduates of Seaside High School.

The Biennial will be attended by more than 5,000 students from 1100 colleges and universities in 30 countries around the world.

Theme of the conference is "But What of Ourselves-- Our Times and Obligations?" There will be workshops, panels and plenary sessions to explore the subject. The conference will also cover such topics as ecology, women's liberation, drug abuse, population control, racism, war, identity, marriage and spiritual healing.

Among the principal speakers other than the college students will be John Hughes, editor of The Christian Science Journal, Sentinel and Herald publications and David Sleeper, a member of the Christian Science Board of Directors.

A report of the meeting will be made to the Peninsula Christian Science churches by the returning students on Sunday, September 12 at 3 p.m. in the edifice of the Pacific Grove branch church.

Big Night At Track

A beauty contest and a 150-lap sportsman division main event are expected to draw more than 3,500 spectators to Watsonville Speedway tomorrow (Friday) night. Those who crave racing action will enjoy this show which will be the biggest program to date this season.

The Permatex 150-lap Gold Cup Championship for sportsman division race cars will headline the show, although the consensus is that it will be difficult to top the parading past the main grandstand of 10 lovely lasses. Beauty, people say, is in the eyes of the beholder and there will be plenty of beauty to behold, according to speedway officials.

Twenty-six cars will start the 150-lap main event. The winner will get his trophy and a kiss from Miss Permatex of Watsonville Speedway, who will be chosen just prior to the Permatex 150.

Top 10 drivers in sportsman point standings will each sponsor a girl of their choice -- most with their wive-s permission, of course-- and the girls will be paraded in front of the main grandstand prior to the big race. The voting will be done by the top 10 finishers in the semi-main, which should be ample proof that there-s always some consolation for those who don't qualify for the main event.

Miss Permatex of Watsonville Speedway will be invited to Daytona Beach, Florida, in January when the nationwide winner will be announced at the Permatex 300 race on the super-speedway.

The top four finishers in main events the past four weeks, the top eight qualifiers from tomorrow night's time trials and the first two finishers in the sportsman semi will make up the 26-car field for the Permatex 150.

The trophy dash will be extended to five laps instead of three and six cars will start instead of four. Winners of the past four main events and top two qualifiers from time trials will be in the trophy dash field.

A 12-lap "las-chance" race will qualify two men for the 20-lap semi-main -giving drivers of slower cars at least an outside chance of earning a spot in the big race.

Also included on the program will be the wild and wooly early model stock cars. They will have a full program of their own, featuring a 20-lap main event on the oval track and a 12 lap main event on the unique "figure-eight" track that criss-crosses through the infield and goes around both turns of the conventional oval. It's the only track of its type on the West Coast.

Among the top stock car drivers in action will be Lloyd Keldsen Sr. (Watsonville), Al Balding and Dave Tannahill (Seaside), John Harper, (Monterey), Bob "Quick-Dra" McGraw (San Jose), Joe Hayes, Wally Reader and Bob Hedrick (Santa Cruz) Jerry Sawyer (Salinas) and Joe Esperaca (Santa Clara).

Time trials start at 6:30 p.m. and the first race not later that 8:15 p.m.

COMING -Exodus II, color litho by Charles White, will be among works of three contemporary black artists to be presented in display at Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art during month of September. Other artists are David Hammon and Timothy Washington.

Workshop Next Week

The San Jose State College Extension Service will hold a summer workshop in Monterey County this month.

The course, "Workshop in Elementary Education: Total Reading: Gr. K-3," will be offered at Manzanita School in Seaside August 23 through 27.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Becker, total reading consultant for Monterey Unified School District, the workshop will explore total reading as a complete language arts program for the primary grades. A decoding approach will be used with a strong emphasis on comprehension and the full development of each child's creative language ability.

The course will meet from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily in the intermediate complex at the school. Tuition fee is $24.75.

Further information on the workshop may be obtained from Extension Services, San Jose State College, 125 South Seventh Street, San Jose, 95114 or by calling 294-6414, extension 2211.

Bible School Is Planned

A feature attraction of this year's Vacation Bible School sponsored by Faith Lutheran Church of Seaside will be horse and pony rides for the youngsters.

"Christ is the Answer!" is the theme of the one week school, which will be held August 23 through 27 from 8:45 until 11:45 daily.

All children in the community between the ages of 3 and 13 are welcome to join in the fun as they study God's word and God's world.

Also planned for activities are religious folk singing, motion pictures, refreshments, a visit to a nursery, an appearance by a magician and a life-applicable bible study.

There is no tuition charged. However, due to limited enrollment, preregistration is recommended.

Anyone wishing more information may call the church, which is located at 1460 Hilby Avenue, at 394-1312 or they may contact the Vacation Bible School director Mrs. Penne Weerts at 384-7688.

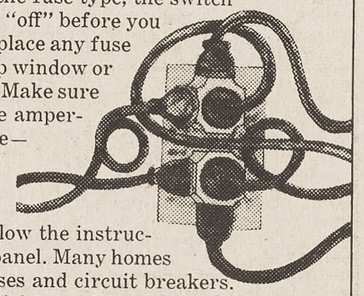
More Helpful Tips from PG&E: "Clip and Save"

Every girl should know how to re-fuse.

If you should find yourself power-less, and your neighbors are too, it's probably a local power equipment failure. Call us and we'll restore service. If the power is off in your house only, it's probably a blown fuse or an open circuit breaker. You may have too many appliances on one circuit or outlet. Unplug a few.

Or it could be a short-circuit, so check for damaged cords and loose plugs.

If your lights are still off, check your main switch. If it is the fuse type, the switch should be turned "off" before you replace a fuse. Replace any fuse that has a smoked-up window or melted metal strip. (Make sure new fuse is the same amperage as the old one— no more, no less.) If you have circuit breakers, follow the instructions on the panel. Many homes have both fuses and circuit breakers.



If your electricity is off for any period, don't open your refrigerator or freezer, so frozen foods will stay frozen longer. If the food starts to thaw, add dry ice. Still in the dark? Call us.

16 miles of straight course skiing in California's most forgotten public lake. And thank goodness.

Honestly now, did you know that Lake Nacimiento is one of the largest public lakes in California? (165 mile shoreline—16 miles long); finest water skiing lake in the state! (Avg. water temp. 75 degrees). Loaded with large mouth bass, channel catfish, pan fish. And picturesque beyond compare. Velvety blue skies by day, star studded by night. AND NO SMOG EVER! Huge oaks grow down to the water's edge. Your children can watch deer come down to drink from the lake...see wild turkeys feeding...see quail, dove, chukar, ground squirrels living here in abundance—almost tame. Few people know Lake Nacimiento is just 10 miles east of Hearst Castle...26 miles from Paso Robles. Now you can own (not lease) but own private property right on the North Shore of this big public lake. Oak Shores is the name of this private membership resort development.

Church Has New Pastor

The Reverend William P. Miller was recently received at Hamilton United Methodist Church, 1525 Waller Street, San Francisco, in a series of "Installation and Dedication to the Future of Hamilton Church." His appointment to Hamilton Church was read last month by Bishop Charles F. Golden at the annual conference in Stockton.

Participating in the service was Dr. Robert Hill superintendent of the Golden Gate District, United Methodist Church.

The Reverend Miller is succeding the Reverend Andrew Juvinall, who is retiring after serving Hamilton Church for the past eight years. He has been widely recognized for his service in the community.

Hamilton United Methodist Church is known for its ministry in the Haight-Ashbury neighborhood. In 1957, the Wednesday Senior Citizen's Center directed by Mrs. Dody Payne, founded in cooperation with the San Francisco Council of Churches -- the "Off Ramp" a drop in counseling center focusing on drug-related problems.

Since 1961, the Paltenghi Youth Center has primarily served Black youth in the neighborhood. Ray Waller is its director. Both centers operate out of Hamilton United Methodist Church.

End Racism

Father John Oubre, SVD, a black priest from Riverside, was guest speaker recently at the Catholic Christ-the-King Church in San Diego.

Speaking to a packed and mixed congregation, he called for an end to racism, saying that "as long as you have done it unto the least of these my brethen you have done it unto Me."

He said he became a priest because of his deep concern for the dignity of man, but he was "not willing to support any institution that denies man his dignity. Those institutions must go...We must take the risk of confronting the established authorities who support...racism."

Trio To Perform In Church

Well-known San Francisco-based musicians Denny Zeitlin with George Marsh and Mel Graves, will give a concert in the main sanctuary of the First Unitarian Church, Franklin and Geary Streets, San Francisco Saturday August 28 at 8:30 p.m.

About a year ago Zeitlin withdrew from the public music scene to devote himself to the study of electronic instruments multiple keyboards and a synthesis of rock, jazz and classical dioms. His gifted collaborators, George Marsh drums, and Mel Graves, bass are former members of the Jerry Hahn Brotherhood and are both conservatory-trained musicians with extensive jazz and rock experience.

In January of this year the Zeitlin Trio re-emerged on the music scene with an engagement at the Matrix. John Wasserman of the San Francisco Chronicle called it an "historic event -- surely the most important group to emerge in San Francisco since...1965."

The metamorphosis of this group is dramatic visually as well as musically. Zeitlin is surrounded by a minimum of five keyboard instruments, foot pedals an array of switches, synthesizers consoles and percussion instruments. Marsh has expanded his drum set to include a multitude of percussion instruments and electronic devices such as the Doomsday Machine. Graves plays acoustic as well as Fender bass, Kotar and an electronic instrument called the Effects Generator.

When the Trio first made its impact in the mid-60's with a series of Columbia recordings, repeat appearances at the Newport and Monterey Jazz Festivals and numerous film scores, they were the first place winners of the Downbeat International Jazz Critics Poll.

Critics called Denny Zeitlin "the most inventive jazz pianist in at least two decades." Since their transition to electronic rock-jazz-classical, these gifted and imaginative artists are creating music of even greater power and scope.

Tickets for the one-night-only August 28 concert are $3 and are available at all Macy's box offices or by mail from Contemporary Arts and Lectures, 2039 Green Street San Francisco CA 94123. For information call 921-3886.

Students Write Guide To 'Charismatic Renewal'

On the theory that you need a program to follow the developments in religion these days, ten summer students at the University of San Francisco have produced a guidebook to "charismatic renewal" in the bay area.

The report covers what is happening and where among religious groups -- from established churches to the new countercultural "Jesus people" -- that are involved in exploring both ancient phenomena and new: healing, tongues and the spiritual dimensions of psychic experience.

"What we have today is a charismatic explosion," said the Reverend J. Gordon Melton, who used the term as the title of his summer theology course at USF. Mr. Melton, 28, is a United Methodist Church minister from Evanston, Illinois. A practitioner of healing, he was employed by the theology department to teach the charismatic course in the summer session which ended July 39.

"The word charismatic," he said, "includes not only the pentecostal revival that most people have heard about, but also renewed interest in spiritualism and psychism. Since a great deal of this activity is centered in the bay area, I asked the students, in place of term papers, to gather data that would be useful for anyone who wants to know where to go or whom to see."

RESEARCH

The compositie report is a result of legwork, interviews and personal experience. It deals with three main charismatic areas: pentecostalism, psychical groups and spiritualists.

Under "pentecostalism" the guidebook lists nine Catholic institutions and organizations active in promoting the Bible-based movement that features laying on of hands and the phenomenon of "tongues" or speaking in several languages previously unknown to the speaker. Named among the centers of pentecostal prayer groups are USF, St. Clement's Church in Hayward and Corpus Christi Convent in Piedmont.

"Jesus people," the newest in the charismatic community, are described as "a spirit-led group...called to bring Jesus to the counter culture people," operating through communes, coffee houses and underground papers. The report gives a news service in Berkeley as the prime information center for the whole movement.

HEALING

While most pentecostal groups accept the "ministry of healing," only a few emphasize prayer for the sake of enlisting divine aid for the sick, the student report notes. It directs the interest to four sources of information about healing services, among them Dr. Kahn Uyeyama, a UC professor who heads the 120 Fellowship in Berkeley, and the Reverend Joseph Diebels, a USF Jesuit priest. Five Episcopalian healing ministries are named.

In listing various spiritualists and psychics, the report observes that "some tend to be suspicious of skeptics and unwilling to answer any questions."

The Reverend Melton is research director of the Institute for the Study of American Religion at the Garrett Theological Seminary in Evanston. He is studying for a Ph.D. in American church history at Northwestern University.

The young minister also is active in the Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship, an interfaith group in Evanston. The fellowship seeks to "sponsor, explore and interpret the growing interest in psychic phenomena and mystical experience within the historical church."

It was just a year ago that Mr. Melton discovered the unusual effects of healing on others -- and himself. Last August he joined Chicago psychic Irene Hughes in a laying on of hands.

He said he was uncertain at first but noticed that "my hands got terrifically hot, and what was uncomfortable for me was apparently healing for others."

The Reverend Melton claims to have eased pains from arthritis and ulcers, but not chronic conditions themselves. "Pain is all I can affect," he said.

The minister believes that serious study of psychic phenomena in religion is just coming into its own.

Aim Is to Strengthen Minorities

Steps toward broadening the empowerment efforts of minority groups through the Interreligious Foundation for Community Organization (IFCO) were taken at a recent meeting of the board of directors.

They include:

*Allocation of larger sums to fewer groups so that organizations granted funds may have a more substantial impact on alleviating minority problems.

*Possible linkage with Canadian blacks.

*Pending membership of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)

New Peace Initiative Is CALC Conference Topic

Clergy and Laymen Concerned (CALC), a national interreligious organization has called a National Organizing Conference at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor for August 17-22. Conference theme is "Vietnam and America: From Bondage to Liberation."

Aim of the conference is to ask -- and attempt to answer -- such questions as:

*Is this a new moment for organizing the religious community around the issue of peace and new priorities?

*Are the figures reflected in the polls regarding opposition to the war real in terms of the life of the religious community?

*Is this the the time for a new initiative for peace?

Conference organizers point out that the 370,000 local churches and synagogues in the United States have more than 150 million members, but that in the past five years a vast majority have not said or done anything explicit about the war. The programmatic activities of most congregations has not been affected by the war.

Nevertheless, conference organizers say public opinion polls and actions taken by seminarians clergy and lay personnel in recent months indicate that the religious community is concerned about peace.

And the religious community as such has proved by past activities and traditions that its actions can make a difference.

The church played a vital part in abolishing slavery when "messengers" went out across the country to churches and synagogues confronting congregations with the issue. And church action was significant in bringing about passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

As conference organizers put it, "The times demand a Covenant of Responsibility as we face ourselves and each other as religious persons." Conference objective is to develop a mutually re-enforcing style of working together at both the local and national levels.

Richard Fernandez, CALC director, said that "while most agencies related to social action arms of the churches and synagogues spent money and time lobbying in D.C., we're placed importance on persons assuming responsibility in local communities. While denominations tried to rally support for ending the war by statements through national boards, we've tried through religiously oriented people at the grass-roots level. Our conference intends to encourage these impulses. Moreover we want to build and develop interdependent ways of functioning and working together that will proceed from some k nd of common analysis of where we want to go."

Conference emphasis, according to Fernandez, will be on strategy. "That's where demoninations and the peace movement at large have been weak."

Preparation has included visits by CALC staff members to 42 cities in 32 states, talking about the conference and getting local feed-back. As a result, resource material an organizing manual and concrete proposals for action are being prepared for discussion at the Ann Arbor meeting.

Asked what kinds of persons were expected to attend the CALC conference Walter Wink, steering committee member, said:

"We recognize that our primary constituency is found in the middle-class religious communities. We see our first task in local organizing as establishing contact with concerned individuals within selected religious institutions and other religious bodies for the purpose of planning and implementing a dialogue and creating confrontation."

He acknowledged, too, "the importance of relating such efforts to on-going concern within churches and synagogues and connecting both the concern and the constituencies with nonreligious peace groups to build a movement for fundamental social change."

Questions to be raised at the meeting will concern foreign policy based on exploitative economic relations, whether the economic system requires constant expansion or planned obsolescence and a priority of profit over human needs what the role of the billion-dollar corporations is, what to do about the ecological crisis, how big organizations may serve as a threat to personal freedom and participation, and issues of men-women relations and racism, among others.

What CALC wants to do Fernandez explained is to help "develop a new vision of human society through analysis self-examination and experimentation with new forms of social, economic, political and religious life."

Report Cites Some Gains

The Nixon Administration's reply to the Congressional Black Caucus' 60-point position paper included a recital of moves it has made on several fronts of minority enterprise, according to the National Business League, an all-Black group.

The Office of Minority Business Enterprise was established in 1969 and has increased the volume of grants, loans and guarantees made to minority business by program agencies from $200 million in 1968 to $315 million in 1970.

Small Business Administration lending to minority enterprise increased from $28 million in 1968 to a projected $217 million this year.

Community development corporations have been established on an experimental basis, which should lead to the development of a model program to supply increased funding for minority ownership.

A program is being developed to expand and improve the technical and management assistance available to minority business.

In addition, an ad hoc Committee of Black Republicans plans to meet periodically with Administration officials but denies it was organized as a counter to the all-Democratic Congressional Black Caucus.

Set Deadline For Vietnam Withdrawal

Members of the United Methodist Southern New England Conference, meeting recently in Providence, Rhode Island, called for disengagement of American military personnel and equipment from Indo-China as soon as possible--but not later than July 1, 1972--and refused to support President Nixon's current war policy.

Conference members represented about 350 churches in Rhode Island, Massachusetts and eastern Connecticut. Although the resolutions did not specifically mention the "Pentagon Papers," the delegates applauded the New York Times and the Washington Post for "courageous journalism" and for helping to "give the American people a more accurate perspective on this whole tragic conflict in Southeast Asia...Even after ten years of hostilities, millions of Americans are still unaware of some of the distortions which were used to gain popular and Congressional support of the war."

In the resolution which called for disengagement by July 1, 1972, the delegates also gave their support to "nonviolent efforts even where civil disobedience is involved."

They refused to pass a resolution commending President Nixon for his "continuing accomplishments" in reducing United States forces in Southeast Asia.

A motion to send copies of the approved resolutions to the New York Times, the Washington Post, President Nixon and Congressional representatives was heartily applauded by the delegates.

Rock Band Is Formed

After more than two years of deliberation with immigration authorities, Chisa Records has announced the formation of the "Union of South Africa" and the subsequent release of this group's first album on the Chisa label.

Hugh Masekela, leader of the new Afro-rock band and part-owner of Chisa Records, has been somewhat successful in the past few years introducing authentic South African music from his homeland, despite the absence of South African musicians in this country.

Under the Republic of South Africa's apartheid system, immigration of South Africans into other countries is stringently controlled, making it extremely difficult for black Africans to gain permission to leave that country.

With help and encouragement, Masekela has been able to assemble America's first true Afro-rock band, "Union of South Africa," with himself and two other newly-immigrated African musicians.
